I agree to the storage and processing of my personal data from this membership application as well as to the contacting by e-mail for information and advertising purposes at any time with revocation. A revocation is possible at any time and informally with future effect to the e-mail address: members@3xw.global. This data will not be passed on to third parties. Information about the use of personal data / privacy policy is provided by the association W³ - WIDE WORLD WILDNESS, Kleindombra 10, 9872 Millstatt am See, Austria. The association is responsible for the data processing activities set forth herein.

The provision of my personal data specified above is necessary for the fulfillment of the purpose of the association according to the statutes. If not provided, a membership with the association will not be possible. This does not apply to the consents to receive newsletters and to take and use photos - these are voluntary. With my signature, I acknowledge that my personal data provided here will be processed electronically and manually within the association on a contractual basis (membership). The purposes of the processing are: Organizational and professional administration and financial processing, membership administration, sending of association and association-related information, information on association-related events, sending of the association's magazine and, if necessary, filing of documents that may contain personal data in the association's archives. Personal data will only be used by the association for the stated purposes.

In the event of withdrawal from the association, the data will be deleted within one year of withdrawal at the latest, provided that there are no arrears of payment on the part of the member, the data are not required for the assertion, exercise or defense of legal claims of the Association and no longer storage of the data is required by law. If documents containing personal data have found their way into the association's archives, they will remain there until revocation or a request for deletion. My rights in connection with data protection regulations extend to the right to information, correction, deletion, restriction, data portability and, if applicable, objection to processing. Furthermore, I have the right to lodge a complaint with the data protection authority - the association website provides more detailed information on all these aspects under the item data protection: www.3xw.global/datenschutzerklaerung
